Reminder: Increased Caltrain Service

Caltrain is now running more than ever!

Eligible employees can use the Caltrain GoPass on their Stanford Medicine Clipper card to ride free!

As of Monday, August 30th, Caltrain service has increased!

This service increase includes more weekday service than ever, with four trains per hour during weekday peak commuting times (6:00am - 9:00am and 4:00pm - 7:00pm)

If Caltrain didn't work with your schedule before - check out the new weekday timetable today!

As an extra incentive for riders, Caltrain fares for non-GoPass members will be discounted by 50% for the month of September.

Return of VTA Light Rail!

Limited Light Rail service has resumed as of August 29th

Eligible employees can use the VTA Smart Pass on their Stanford Medicine Clipper card to ride free!

Welcome back, light rail!

The Valley Transit Authority (VTA) has now resumed service through a significant portion of the light rail system.

- The Orange Line between Mountain View and Alum Rock is now fully operational
- The Green Line is partially operational, running between Old Ironsides and San Jose Diridon
- The Blue Line is partially operational between Baypoint to the Children's Discovery Museum

Keep an eye out for additional announcements from VTA as service resumes. Eligible employees can use the VTA Smart Pass on their Clipper card to ride free anytime. For more information about Stanford Medicine VTA Smart Passes, click the link below.

Back to School? Brand New Commute!

As your family adjusts to a new schedule, consider switching up your commute

Biking to Caltrain is just one of many commuting options available to Stanford Medicine staff

As school starts back up, many families are finding themselves thrust into a new schedule, and many employees are finding themselves stuck in traffic.

Take this opportunity to revisit your commute! Avoid sitting in traffic by:

- Taking a shuttle or bus from the East Bay!
