

Virtual Transportation Pop-Up Office Hours Now Open

Have questions about commuting, transit programs, or sustainable travel options? Stanford Medicine Transportation Services is hosting virtual Transportation Pop-Up office hours - a relaxed way to get real help with transportation program and parking questions.

This is a great opportunity for anyone whose schedule or work location does not allow attendance at the pop-up in person. Whether commuting every day or once in a while, expert guidance is just a click away.

Office hours take place every Wednesday from 12:00 - 2:00 PM

Say hello to Jenny Yu, Program Project Coordinator with Transportation Services, who will be hosting the virtual pop-up office hours! Jenny is passionate about sustainable commuting and loves helping people find transportation options that fit their lifestyle.

Jenny's sustainable commute of choice is the Caltrain with a last-mile connection via the MC shuttle to the Palo Alto Hospital Campus.
